Dr. Lederle is opposed to the issuing of these vacation certificates, as he says the whole object of vacation—to give a child a rest and recreation—is defeated. The objections against vacation work were oresented before the Legislature by the Child Labor Committee last winter, and an amendment abolishing the system was passed, but it does not go into effect until Oct. 1.

According to the latter's story he, with his wife, was accompanying home on Thursday evening Mrs. Emily Miller, who lives near One Hundred and Eightieth street and Mohlcan avenue. With them was Peter Speiss.

Speiss and Mayer were walking ahead of the women through One Hundred and Eightieth street when the men were startled by a cry of "Heip" from Mrs. Meyer. They rushed back, the women having fallen considerably to the rear of the men, and came upon Mrs. Meyer held in the arms of a man while a strange woman lashed her across the body with a buggy whip. Mrs. Miller stood to one side wringing her hands and shricking for help.

Meyer rushed in to rescue his wife and was met with a stinging blow in the face from the strange man, who released Mrs. Meyer to protect himself. A short, sharp fight followed, during which the strange man escaped after knocking Meyer down.

The Meyers reported the matter to the police. Bierman was arrested last evening in Fordham by Detective Nilon of the Tremont avenue station.

The Evening World Sick Babies' Fund will begin the fifteenth year of its summer work in behalf of the suffering little ones of New York by the institution of a novel and needed feature.

One of the needs noted by The Evening World corps of physicians and all other doctors whose practice has led them to study the causes of infant mortality has been a scientifically-constructed, hygienic feeding battle.

Many of the bottles which are in common use only can be cleansed with great difficulty and others cannot be kept in sanitary condition by any amount of care. Boards of health of various cities have condemned some of these types of feeding bottles and for bidden their sale.
